The Necron Tombworlds

Building a Necron Army

In games of the Horus Heresy: Age of Darkness, the models under a given player's control are referred to as that player's army. Each army is composed of a single Force Organisation chart (most commonly using the Crusade Force Organisation chart), which will include one or more Detachments. An army whose Primary Detachment is selected from any Army List is considered to have the Faction of that Primary Detachment (for example, an army whose Primary Detachment was selected from the Necrons List would be considered an Necron army). Units from various Sub-factions cannot be mixed in the same Detachment, unless a Special Rule or other ability permits this.

Other, non-Primary, Detachments in the same army may be selected from any other Army List - following any additional restrictions applied, such as the ones on the next page - but each Detachment may only include units from a single Army List, unless another Special Rule states otherwise.

When selecting a Primary Detachment, you must also choose a Sub-Faction for that detachment, in the form of a Necron Dynasty. Each Dynasty provides special bonuses and options for their units and determines the Alliance Levels between other Sub-Factions.

In addition, each Dynasty has a number of allied units that are usually attached to its Tomb Worlds, whether that be Triarch Praetorians watching over the slumbering necrons, a Destroyer Cult filling part of their ranks, or Flayed Ones lurking at the fringes. As such, a Primary Detachment is also allowed to incorporate a number of Allied Units without requiring an entire Allied Detachment be taken, so long as the number of points spent on Triarch, Destroyer, and Flayed models does not exceed 25% of the army's total points.

Force Organisation Charts and Detachments

The maximum and minimum number of units that may be included in a given army is defined by a Force Organisation chart, of which there is one basic chart available, the Crusade Force Organisation chart.

Any Force Organisation chart is made up of one or more Detachments. A Force Organisation chart will always include one Primary Detachment, which must be selected, and may also include a number of optional Detachments which a player may choose to use or ignore. Each Detachment that a player chooses to use as part of their army must use a single Army List, which determines the Faction of that Detachment. Most optional Detachments are not required to be the same Faction as the Primary Detachment, but some Detachments may have special rules which require them to be of a certain Faction (and thus use a specific Army List). Detachments of different Factions in the same army will have additional special rules that determine how they interact (see the Allied Section).

Each Detachment is composed of a number of boxes, each linked to one of the Battlefield Roles. Each of these boxes allows the player to make one selection from the section of their Army List that includes units of the same Battlefield Role. Dark boxes indicate Compulsory selections, which must be included as part of the Detachment, while the lighter boxes indicate optional choices, which are only included as part of the Detachment if the player in question chooses to do so.

Sometimes, a single choice in a Detachment may allow you to select more than one unit, or to vary the Battlefield Role of the unit selected. In all cases, such deviations from the normal procedure will be fully explained in the Force Organisation chart that the Detachment is part of.

Each unit selected to fill a box in any single Detachment must be chosen from the same Army List, and must be of the same Battlefield Role as that of the box. The unit profile in the Army List will dictate the number of points from the points limit that must be spent to add the unit to the player's army. Players continue to spend points to fill boxes in Detachments within the chosen Force Organisation chart until either they run out of points, fill all boxes in all available Detachments or the player chooses to stop.

Nodal Command Force

The Tomb World's Nodal Command Force exemplifies the adaptable hierarchy of Necron military organization. Unlike traditional Terran militaries, there exists no static command structure within each Tomb World or sector. Instead, the organization adapts fluidly in response to each battle, campaign, or Harvest through the Nodal Command System.

This system dynamically allocates hierarchy and command authority based on operational needs, ensuring both centralized control and decentralized tactical responsiveness, while threading many of the complex political natures of a Necron Tomb World at the same time.

Nodal Command System

The Nodal Command System assigns hierarchical values to nodes within the Necron force. These nodes, primarily Necron Lords, control various units and can shift their hierarchical roles as the situation demands. Hierarchical Command Levels within this system include Bronze, Silver, Gold, and Platinum nodes in extraordinary cases.

When selecting the Nodal Command Force as your Primary Detachment, you must also determine the Command Level at which the Tomb World is operating at, with higher levels representing higher levels of escalation by the awakening Tomb World. This level determines what Force Organisation slots are available to you alongside what units are considered Compulsory. When selecting a higher level, you must take all of the Compulsory options for that level and all levels below it. For example, selecting a Decurion Formation has a Compulsory list of: 1 HQ (Silver), 1 HQ (Bronze), 2 Troops. Compulsory units for levels above yours are not Compulsory, you may not include any Force Organization slots above your level at all — the Tomb World has not woken up to that degree.

Command Levels and Battlefield Roles

Bronze-Level Command: Necron Line Formation

Bronze-Level Command forms the primary response force against threats and curiosities identified by the Tomb World. These formations are usually summoned when a Primary Awakener Force encounters threats too potent or complex for them to handle, necessitating a more potent force.

However, when such a response fails the Tomb World may seek to awaken a Silver-Level Command and subsume multiple Line Formations into a Decurion. When part of a Decurion Formation, each Line Formation is often referred to as a Cohort, with multiple Cohorts — traditionally two — forming a Legion.

The exact composition of a Line Formation varies by Tomb World and Dynasty, but a consistent feature is its overseeing Bronze-Level Necron Lord, possibly accompanied by their Lychguard retinue. General features include a number of Dynastic Warriors or Immortals that are supported by specialized units such as Cryptek Conclaves, Destroyer Cults, Flayed Ones, Canoptek constructs, and Triarch Praetorians.

The Compulsory Headquarters unit for Necron Line Formations must have the Nodal Command (Bronze) special rule.

Primary Detachment: Necron Line Formation (Required)

- Compulsory: 1 HQ (Bronze), 1 Troop
- Optional: +2 Troops, +1 Elite, +2 Fast Attack, +1 Heavy Support, +4 Fortification

Silver-Level Command: Necron Decurion Formation

Silver-Level Commands are awakened by the Tomb World to address more strategically significant or politically worthy threats, creating what is termed a Decurion. This is a slow and dangerous process for any Tomb World during the 30th Millennium, and as such is never done lightly.

Upon activation, a high-ranking or highly skilled Lord is traditionally anointed as Nemesor to lead the Decurion. This formation includes several Legions, each comprising multiple Line Formations with their own supporting elements and Bronze-Level Lords. The Decurion functions as a more traditional battlefield element, bringing specialized and advanced resources into play while coordinating multiple Line Formations for cohesive and effective responses to larger threats.

Should even this force prove insufficient, the Tomb World may escalate further by awakening a Gold-Level Command, subsuming multiple Decurions into a Tesserarion. In such cases, the title of Nemesor passes to the Overlord, with the Decurion acting as a medium force organization that coordinates individual Line Formations and relays data engrams to the Tesserarion's leadership for efficient processing.

The Compulsory Headquarters unit for Necron Decurion Formations must have the Nodal Command (Silver) special rule.

Extended Primary Detachment: Necron Decurion Formation (Optional)

- Compulsory: 1 HQ (Silver), 1 Troop
- Optional: +1 HQ, +2 Troops, +2 Elites, +1 Fast Attack, +1 Heavy Support

Gold-Level Overlord — or in extreme cases a Platinum-Level Phaeron. This command structure is activated only when events pose a significant threat to the Tomb World itself, as the risks associated with awakening so early from the Great Slumber to the Tomb World's Overlord and many of its extremely complex war machines are considerable.

Each Tesserarion encompasses several Decurions, each retaining their traditional elements. The number of Tesserarions can vary greatly depending on the campaign's scale, forming the might of the Tomb World's military forces. While there is only one Overlord for each Tomb World, members of the Overlord's court may be given command of individual Gold-Level Command of Tesserarions, all under the Overlord's overarching command. If a Phaeron leads the campaign, each Tesserarion is often commanded by Overlords from his realms, although this is rare during the 30th Millennium, with a more likely situation leading the Phaeron to draw solely from the awakening Tomb World. Tesserarions deploy immensely powerful Necron war machines, including Monoliths, C'Tan shards, Seraptek Constructs, and more.

Gold-Level Command: Necron Tesserarion Formation

Gold-Level Command represents the highest echelon of the Necron battlefield hierarchy, led by the Tomb World's Primary Awakeners. The first elements activated by the Tomb World are the Tomb Spiders. These hulking custodians see to the initial tasks of ministrating to the stasis tombs. Embued with the powers of resurrection, the Tomb Spiders activate the Raider forces. Meanwhile the second element of the Primary Awakeners, the Scarabs, hasten to secure the interior of the Tomb. In swarms a thousand strong, Scarabs swiftly seek out intruders and carry out any essential maintenance to the Tombs defences.

Reserve Command. After initial data has been retrieved, the command of all raider forces is subsumed into the Nodal Command of a Necron Lord, usually of Silver-level priority. When required, the Reserve Command will enter battle led by their Necron Lord, who also fulfils the role of being a redundant command unit who can take control of any existing forces should their Necron Lords be destroyed.

Raider Force. Consisting of a small number of Necron Warriors and Scarabs, the Raider force emerges into the outside environment and initially has complete autonomy (within its programming). Its purpose is to scout the surface of the Tomb World and nearby systems, seeking data on the position and status of other races. Destroying a Raider force will result in one of two outcomes: the Tomb World may despatch a second Raider force on a follow-up mission; the Tomb World may proceed to the second stage of activation.

Necron Line Formations. The bulk of Necron armies are gathered into this region of the Nodal Command. Led by up to four Bronze-level Necron Lords, the Line Formations consist of a variety of different fighting formations. Ground forces are organised into phalanxes made up of a core of Necron Warriors transported by Monoliths, and supported by secondary units such as Destroyers, Immortals, and so forth. These phalanxes are often accompanied by more specialist formations dubbed 'cohorts'. The Necron Lords of the Line Formations act as a battlefield command circuit, able to pass information between themselves, upload data to the Platinum-level command, or call upon the Reserve Command for physical support or additional data analysis. Each Tomb World might have dozens of such formations, which are activated by the Tomb Spiders and inserted into or removed from the Nodal Command as required.

Nodal Command – Bronze Network.
All communication between the Line Commanders is routed through both the Platinum-level Nodal Command and the Reserve Command Necron Lord. This redundancy ensures that should any one element of the network be somehow neutralised, communication and command is still possible.

Priority Command. Three Gold-level Necron Lords form the highest command structure yet encountered on the battlefield. These are responsible for strategic decision making, and are capable of over-riding the communication and control of any Silver or Bronze-level Lords present. They are also capable of committing the most potent forces available to the Tomb World, include specialist troops such as Pariah, as well as larger war machines, aerial forces and starships.

Nodal Command – Gold Network. All data and decisions made at Gold-level are directed through all three Gold-level necron lords, for triple-redundancy. Should a Gold-level Lord be removed in some fashion, one of the Line Commanders will be elevated to Gold-level status to replace the missing Necron Lord.

Platinum Commander. No Platinum-level commander has yet been encountered, and its existence is only hypothesised from observing the actions of Gold-level Necron Lords. It is a subject of much speculation whether the Platinum Nodal Command is some creation hidden on a Tomb World, or might perhaps be the Tomb World Itself. Techpriests are confident that the Platinum-level Command is not representative of the C'Tan, who do not directly interact in the Nodal Command structure in any discernable way.

Warlords of the Necron Dynasties

Core Warlord Traits

These Traits are available to any Character model selected as an army's Warlord, regardless of Faction or Allegiance.

Blood Handed

Some warlords are only satisfied by the clash of blades and the screams of the enemy as they fall before them. For such warriors, strategy is but a means to an end, a tool by which they can bring their forces into the brutal crucible of the melee as soon as possible. There, in the heart of the battlefield, they seek victory at any cost.

Any combat with at least one friendly model within 12" of this Warlord, or a combat which includes this Warlord, gains a bonus of +1 to the number of Wounds caused for the purposes of combat resolution. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction during their opponent's Assault phase as long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Stoic Defender

This warlord is a rock, the hard place against which their foes are dashed and broken. When the enemy surges forth, they do not foolishly go to meet them, but dig in so that the foe may exhaust themselves against the defences prepared for them. In the end, victory comes to those willing to endure the fires of battle and emerge unscathed from its fury.

Any friendly unit joined by a Warlord with this Trait that makes a Shooting Attack will force the target unit to make a Pinning test if it suffers any unsaved Wounds. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction during their opponent's Shooting phase as long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Ever-vigilant

Always ready to take advantage of the foe's weakness, this warlord is a master of predicting and exploiting the flow of battle. Where the foe advances, this warlord falls back to better ground, where the foe retreats, this warlord advances, for victory is fickle and only falls into the grasp of those prepared for any eventuality.

When this Warlord, and any unit it has joined, Runs during the Movement phase, it adds the value of the Warlord's Initiative Characteristic, increased by 1, to the distance moved, rather than the lowest Initiative Characteristic in the unit. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction during their opponent's Movement phase as long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Necron Warlord Traits

These Traits are available to any Character model selected as an army's Warlord, regardless of Faction or Allegiance.

Implacable Conqueror

The tide of battle cannot stall the march of this warlord and his legions. His command is absolute, and his will unyielding. In the face of adversity, where others falter, his relentless determination drives his forces forward. Under his leadership, even the pinned and the beleaguered become a spearhead of conquest, pushing through the fog of war with cold, mechanical precision. This warlord's presence turns the tides, transforming the chaos of battle into a calculated advance, unbroken and unyielding, leading to inevitable victory.

A Warlord with this Trait and any friendly unit with at least one model within 6" that is Pinned may still move and declare Charges, but is limited to only firing Snap Shots until it is no longer Pinned. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction during their opponent's Movement phase as long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Ceremonial Duelist

This Warlord, ancient and inexorable, thrives on the honor and brutality of single combat, shattering foes in personal duels with unmatched power and skill. Necron warlords take pride in demonstrating their supremacy in challenges, and this one is particularly lethal when engaged in single combat.

Any combat which includes a Warlord with this Trait gains a bonus of +1 to the number of Wounds caused for the purposes of deciding which side has won a combat during the Assault phase. While Engaged in a Challenge a Warlord with this Trait adds a bonus of +1 to their Attacks Characteristics. Once per battle, when starting a Challenge, you may declare it to be a Ceremonial Challenge. During a Ceremonial Challenge, all combatants make their attacks at Initiative Step 1, regardless of their actual Initiative, and the Warlord gains a +1 to their WS. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase so long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Tyrant of the Aeons

As time itself crumbles before the ceaseless reign of this ancient warlord, he commands the ebb and flow of epochs. The Tyrant of the Aeons stands as a master of warfare, wielding arcane knowledge of forgotten eons. His will bends the tides of the Necrons to his favor. In his presence, the battlefield becomes a testament to the unyielding dominion of the Necron dynasty, where past, present, and future converge under his imperious gaze.

When selecting Command Protocols for this Warlord, you may choose an additional protocol. A Warlord with this special rule may use multiple options from differing Command Protocols by making a Command Protocol Test as normal, however they may only use up to two options in a given player turn — even if those options are activated in different phase. Roll a Command Protocol Test when using the second option, if it takes place in a different phase than the first. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction during their opponent's Shooting phase as long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Necron Rules

Special Rules

Annihilation Protocols

Only a single unit with Annihilation Protocol may be taken in armies using the Nodal Command Force Organisation Chart that contains any Fortifications.

Awakening Protocols (Tier)

This rule is accompanied by a tier of Bronze, Silver, Gold, and Platinum. Units with this rule can only be included in lists which contain an HQ model with the corresponding Nodal Command tier or higher. Some units have both of these special rules, in which case they cannot satisfy this rules requirements with their own Nodal Command special rule.

Command Protocols

At the start of the game, after both sides have deployed, each unit with this ability may select a Command Protocol that can be used during the game. Many options allow the player to roll a Command Protocol check for additional benefits. To do so, roll a Leadership Check, with success granting the listed effects. Failure causes the listed negative effect immediately.

Protocol of Eternal Guardian

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Movement Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range that has not moved yet and apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit improves its Cover Save by +1, or gains a 6+ Cover Save if it has none, but it may not Run this turn.
- The chosen unit can re-roll failed Cover Saves.
- When the chosen unit is targeted by a Shooting Attack, treat the distance between the attacking unit and the target as 3" longer than the actual distance for Shooting Attacks as long as it is in cover.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed,

Protocol of Sudden Storm

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Movement Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range that has not moved yet and apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit may immediately move a number of inches up to its unmodified Initiative Characteristic. If the chosen unit has mixed Initiative Characteristics, use the highest unmodified Characteristics.
- The chosen unit gains the Move Through Cover special rule and must re-roll failed Dangerous Terrain Tests until your next turn.
- The chosen unit's movement does not trigger enemy reactions until the end of your Movement Phase.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed, the target unit may only move half their Movement (rounded down) this turn.

Protocol of Vengeful Stars

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Shooting Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range that has not shot yet and apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit's Ranged Weapons gain the Ignores Cover rule until your next turn.
- The chosen unit's Ranged Weapons gain Breaching (6+) or increase the level of Breaching or Rending by 1 until your next turn.
- The chosen unit gains Relentless until your next turn.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed, the target unit suffers -1 BS this turn.

Protocol of the Hungry Void

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Shooting Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit gains the Counter Charge (1) special rule until your next turn.
- The chosen unit's Melee Weapons gain Breaching (6+) or increase the level of Breaching or Rending by 1 until your next turn.
- The chosen unit gains the Furious Charge (1) special rule until your next turn.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed, the target unit suffers -1 WS this turn.

Protocol of the Undying Legions

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Shooting Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range and apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit can re-roll results of 1 once for Reanimation Protocols until next turn. Dynamic Warriors can re-rolls results of 1 higher than normal.
- The chosen unit's Living Metal ability has its It Will Not Die level increased by 2 levels (e.g. 5+ > 3+) until your next turn.
- The chosen unit ignores the first unsaved Wound it would take before your next turn.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed, the target unit suffers -1 to Reanimation Protocol rolls until next turn.

Protocol of the Conquering Tyrant

This model may give up their Shooting Attacks this turn to use this power during the Movement Phase. Select a single friendly Necron unit within Nodal Range and apply one of the following affects to the unit:

- The chosen unit counts as being in Nodal Range of all units with the Command Protocols special ability until your next turn.
- The chosen unit gains the Hit & Run ability until your next turn.
- The chosen unit gains a +2 bonus to Initiative Tests until your next turn.

You may choose to make a Command Protocol check before using this power, if the check is successful two different options may be applied. If the Check is failed, the target unit gains the Soulless Hordes (Bronze) trait this turn, if it did not already have it, and cannot ignore the Engrammatic Attack Patterns provision this turn.

Curse of Llandu'gor

A model with this special rule does not suffer the penalties for low Levels of Alliance (e.g. the Leadership penalty for By the Phaeron's), although its allied units still do.

Drawn to Blood

A model with this special rule must start the game in Reserve or Infiltrate. Each time an enemy unit is completely destroyed the Necron player may move one unit with the Flayer sub-type from Reserve into Ongoing Reserve, even if this means that a unit will appear turn One. Independent Characters may be attached to their units when entering.

Nodal Command (Tier)

This rule is accompanied by a tier of Bronze, Silver, Gold, and Platinum. Each tier provides a specified range known as Nodal Range, which many other abilities reference for their effects. Any unit within Nodal Range of this unit may use its Leadership in place of its own and units with the Soulless Hordes sub-type may ignore the Engrammatic Attack Patterns provision. The highest tier unit in your army must be your Warlord.

Tier	Nodal Range
Bronze	6"
Silver	9"
Gold	12"
Platinum	12"

Mark of the Flayer

If this model or its attached unit destroys an enemy unit during the Assault Phase or fails a Morale check, immediately

roll a D6 and apply the result as determined below:

D6 Result

Berserk: The model is seized by murderous fury and unable to tell friend from foe. If part of an infantry unit, resolve D3 automatic hits on that unit using the model's weapons. If alone, the model suffers an immediate Wound, with no save allowed.

In Control: The model is able to control their madness by sheer force of will, giving no effect.

Transfiguration: The model is transfigured by madness, their auto-repair system distorting their form to express the malignance that consumes them. They gains the Fearless and Rage (1) trait until the end of combat.

Entropic Strike (X)

When allocating wounds from a Wound Pool from a weapon with this special rule, lower the target model's Armour Save by 1 (e.g. 3+ → 4+) permanently before making its save. Against Vehicles, an Armour Penetration roll equal to or greater than the listed value lowers the AV of all facings by 1 permanently before resolving the effects. Vehicles with lowered to an AV of 0 are destroyed and removed from the battlefield.

Ethereal Interceptors

This unit is may perform a separate Deep Strike Assault. Additionally, it may make use of the Ethereal Interception Advanced Reaction.

Exile Ray (X)

When firing a weapon with this special rule, a To Wound roll equal to or higher than the value listed wounds automatically, regardless of the target's Toughness, has the Instant Death special rule, and the victim must re-roll successful Invulnerable saves. Against Vehicles and Buildings, an Armour Penetration roll equal to or higher than the listed value inflicts a Penetrating Hit.

Gauss (X)

When firing a weapon with this special rule, a To Wound roll equal to or higher than the value listed wounds automatically, regardless of the target's Toughness. Against vehicles and buildings, an Armour Penetration roll equal to or higher than the value listed inflicts a Glancing hit.

Ground Lash

When the weapon with this special rule is used to make a Shooting Attack, draw a line 1" inche wide from the model up to the listed range of the weapon — this is the projectile's path.

- Each model (friend and enemy) caught in the path (except the firing model) suffers a hit. Models with the Flyer or Skimmer Sub-Type are not affected.

- Units suffer a hit equal to the number of models caught under the line.

Hyperspace Hunters

A unit with this rule specializes in combat that makes use of movement through hyperspace pocket dimensions. In your Movement Phase, this unit may slip back into hyperspace instead of moving, as long as it did not arrive from Reserves this turn and is not locked in combat or Falling Back. If it does so, remove it from the board and place it into Ongoing Reserves. It can be assigned to a Deep Strike Assault as normal on your Next Player Turn. Models with this rule still make It Will Not Die rolls while placed back into reserves.

Decurion/Tesserarion Nemesor

The Decurion Nemesor / Tesserarion Nemesor special rule grants the following benefits:

- Rites of War: If a Detachment with the Necron Faction includes at least one model with the Decurion Nemesor special rule then that Detachment may select a single Rite of War.
- Lord of the Legion: An army may only include a maximum of one model with this special rule per 1,000 points. This counts across all Detachments of an army.
- A model with this special rule may also include an Immortals, Pariah Lychguard, or Royal Lychguard unit as part of the same Force Organisation slot as the model with the Decurion Nemesor special rule, but must still meet the required Awakening Protocols tier.

If multiple units are eligible to take this ability, it can only be taken by those with the highest Nodal Command tier in the force that has not already taken this ability.

Path of Annihilation (X)

When the weapon with this special rule is used to make a Shooting Attack, draw a line a number of inches wide equal to the Level in the brackets from the model up to the listed range of the weapon — this is the projectile's path.

- For each model (friend and enemy) caught in the path (except the firing model), roll to hit as usual for a Shooting Attack, with each model suffering a hit if successful. Models with the Flyer sub-type are not affected unless the controlling player decides to affect only models with the Flyer sub-type.
- If a Terrain piece, Building, or model with the Vehicle Unit Type or any model with 6 or more Wounds is successfully hit and does not suffer a Penetrating Hit or unsaved Wound the attack is blocked and its path will go no further than that model. The blocking model will however, suffer D3 additional hits.
- If a model with the Vehicle Unit Type and the Transport Sub-Type suffers a Penetrating Hit from a weapon with this special rule, each unit Embarked on it suffers D6 hits from the weapon, in addition to any other effects.

Any Wounds caused are allocated by the controller of the target unit.

- If a model with the Void Shields special rule is successfully hit by this attack and the Void Shield suffers a Penetrating Hit, immediately resolve another hit against the next Void Shield or the model itself if no Void Shields remain until an Armour Penetration roll is failed. If an Armour Penetration roll is failed against a Void shield the attack is blocked and its path will go no further than that model and it suffers no additional hits.
- Successful Invulnerable Saves and Feel No Pain Damage Mitigation rolls must be re-rolled. Successful Shrouded Damage Mitigation rolls are considered to have not hit the model.

Quake

All units hit by a weapon with the Quake type treat open ground as difficult terrain until the end of their controlling player's next turn.

Reanimation Protocols

Whenever a friendly unit with Reanimation Protocols suffers unsaved wounds or resolves an effect causing wounds, and casualties have been removed, total the number of wounds that have been lost among models that were destroyed and put them into a Reassembling Pool and a second Reassembling Pool for wounds that have the Instant Death special rule.

For each wound in the Reassembling Pool, roll a D6, subtracting 1 for wounds in the Instant Death Reassembling Pool. This unit is Reanimating a wound for every 5+ roll. Each time such a unit Reanimates a wound, perform the following steps:

- If that unit is less than its Starting Strength, return one destroyed model to play in cohesion range with one wound remaining.
- Then, if that unit is at its Starting Strength and has models that are missing any wounds, select a model with the lowest remaining wounds; it regains one lost wound.

If this unit would be destroyed by the attack or effect, Reanimation Protocols still triggers; perform the process as normal, however after models have been returned from successful Reanimation rolls, if there are remaining wounds in the Wound Pool, continue allocating those to the newly Reanimated models until the Wound Pool is empty or all Reanimation rolls have failed; these remaining wounds can cause further Reanimation Protocols triggers. Do note that effects that simply destroy the unit (e.g. Sweeping Advance) do not trigger Reanimation Protocols.

When assigning wounds to units that have multiple models missing any wounds, assign them to the models with the least amount of wounds. In case of ties, the attacking player decides which models to apply them to.

Certain effects can cause models to immediately begin Reassembling or Reanimating; Reassembling models create a Reassembling Pool equal to the lost wounds of those model and then roll for them as normal. Reanimating models immediately follow the steps for reanimating a number of times equal to the wounds of the destroyed model.

Soulless Hordes (X)

Models with the Soulless Hordes subtype are subject to the Engrammatic Attack Patterns provision, which has effects dependent on the tier of the subtype:

Bronze: During the controlling player's Shooting phase and Charge sub-phase, the Soulless Hordes unit must attempt a Shooting Attack if there is an enemy unit within range (they are not forced to charge), and must target the closest enemy unit possible that is within its line of sight and a valid target for a Shooting Attack or Charge. If two or more targets are equally close then the controlling player chooses which will be the target of a Shooting Attack or Charge. Similar to the Fearless rule, this unit cannot choose to fail a Morale check due to the Our Weapons Are Useless special rule. Additionally, they may not make Reactions.

Silver: During the controlling player's Shooting phase and Charge sub-phase, if the unit attempts a Shooting Attack and/or Charge they must target the closest enemy unit possible that is within its line of sight and a valid target for a Shooting Attack or Charge. If two or more targets are equally close then the controlling player chooses which will be the target of a Shooting Attack or Charge. Similar to the Fearless rule, units with this subtype cannot use any Reactions that grant a Cover Save, Armour Save or Invulnerable Save, and cannot choose to fail a Morale check due to the Our Weapons Are Useless special rule.

The Command Protocols trait is able to suppress this sub-type's effects while in Nodal Range.

Teleportation Reserves

If a unit in your army has equipment that allows them to interact with Teleportation Reserves — such as the Eternity Gate — you may have any units from your army start out in Teleportation Reserves. Certain abilities and wargear

Unit Subtypes

Living Metal

Models with the Living Metal subtypes gain a number of effects:

- Models with the Living Metal subtype have the It Will Not Die (5+) Special rule.
- Successful Wounds inflicted by attacks with the Poisoned or Fleshbane special rules must be re-rolled against models with the Living Metal subtype.
- The Shock Pulse and Disruption special rules affect models with the Living Metal subtype.
- Models with the Living Metal subtype ignore Leadership penalties caused by the Anethema sub-type.
- Models with the Living Metal subtype may not make Sweeping Advances, unless a rule specifies otherwise.
- Vehicles with the Living Metal subtype ignore the effects of Crew Shaken (but still lose a Hull Point).
- Heavy or Super-Heavy Vehicles with the Living metal subtype are not subject to the particular effects of the Lance and Melta special rules by attacks made against it and reduce the effects of all rolls on the Vehicle Damage chart caused by Penetrating hits (other than by Destroyer type weaponry) by -1.

allow you to bring units from Teleportation Reserves onto the Battlefield, move units into Teleportation Reserves, or otherwise interact with them and will be detailed in their respective sections. While in Teleportation Reserves a unit cannot use any Deep-Strike or other Reserve abilities and may only enter play through another unit or effect that would allow it.

In addition, while in Teleportation Reserves a unit is actively repaired by the Tomb World's vast resources and expertise: At the start of your Player Turn a unit in Teleportation Reserves reassembles a number of wounds equal to the amount of lost wounds from any models plus the amount of wounds among destroyed models in the unit.

Tesla (X)

When firing a weapon with this special rule, a To Hit roll equal to or higher than the value listed generates an additional 2 hits. These hits may be applied to the target unit, or to any unit within 2" of the target unit.

Their Number is Legion

When a model with this special rule rolls for Reanimation Protocols, re-roll unmodified results of 1. If a unit with this special rules has at least half of hits models within 6" of an Objective, they instead re-roll unmodified results of 1 or 2. Dynastic Warrior models increase this range by 1.

Their Name is Death

If a model with this special rule has not moved or Run during the Movement phase of its controlling player's turn then that model may re-roll failed To Wound rolls or unmodified Armour Penetration rolls of 1 or 2 with Gauss Weapons and failed To Hit rolls with Tesla Weapons.

Tomb Guardians

Only a single unit with the Tomb Guardians rule may be used in any army which is built using the Nodal Command Force Organisation Chart and does not contain any Fortifications, should the army contain Fortifications there is no limit.

Canoptek

Models with the Canoptek subtype gain the Fearless special rule.

Destroyer

Models with the Destroyer subtype gain a number of effects:

- All models gain the Preferred Enemy (Non-Necrons) special rule.

- All models gain the Hardwired for Destruction special rule, which grants: Units with the Destroyer sub-type ignore the Living Metal sub-type's restriction on performing Sweeping Advances.

Flayer

Models with the Flayer subtype gain a number of effects:

- All models gain the Hatred (Non-Necrons) special rule.

- All models gain the Fear (2) special rule.

- All models gain the Deep-Strike and Infiltrate special rule,

- All models gains the Flesh Hunters special rule, which grants: Units with the Flayer sub-type ignore the Living Metal sub-type's restriction on performing Sweeping Advances.

Floating

A unit that includes only models with the Floating sub-type may ignore the effects of any and all terrain it passes over during movement, including passing over vertical terrain and Impassable Terrain without penalty or restriction. However, such units may not begin or end their movement in Impassable Terrain, and if beginning or ending their movement in Dangerous Terrain must take Dangerous Terrain tests as normal.

Noble

A model with the Noble sub-type gains the Independent Character special rule.

Phaeron

The following rules apply to all Phaerons:

- All Phaerons have the following Special Rules: Eternal Warrior, Fearless, It Will Not Die (3+), Relentless
- Phaerons are not affected by special rules that negatively modify their Characteristics (other than Wounds) and, in addition, Phaerons always resolves Snap Shots at their normal BS.
- Any Hits inflicted by a Phaeron, as part of either Shooting Attacks or in close combat, are allocated by the Phaeron's controlling player and not the controlling player of the target unit. These Hits should form a separate Wound Pool.

Maynarkh

Maynarkh Dynasty Necron units gain the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule, which grants the TODO: This advanced reaction and Cursed Awakening special rule.

Any unit with the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule and Character sub-type may take any of the following:

- Mark of the Flayer special rule 0 points.
- Bloodswarm Scarabs 5 points.

Any unit with the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule may take any of the following:

- Flensing Scarabs +10 points.

A Charnel Lychguard Phalanx with the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule may take the following option:

One Charnel Lychguard may take:

- Dynastic Ankh +10 points

Advanced Reaction:

Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) (Cursed Awakening):

When a unit made up of entirely models with the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule attacks during the Fight phase against an enemy unit that is Pinned, Falling Back, or outnumbed by the attack unit it gets a +1 to all To Wound or Armour Penetration rolls made during the Assault. Furthermore if one or more models with this special rule are part of a combat that results in a draw, then the side that includes one or more models at the end of the fight sub-phase with this special rule is counted as having won the combat by 1 point. If both sides include models with this special rule then the combat remains a draw. Units with this special rule and the Decurion Nemesor or Tesserarion Nemesor special rule may also take a Triarch Praetorian Vanguard unit as an option for that special rule.

Maynarkh:

Mephrit

Mephrit Dynasty Necron units gain the Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) special rule, which grants the Solar Fury advanced reaction, Stellar Destruction special rule, and access to the Merciless Tyrant Fury Warlord trait.

Any unit with the Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) special rule may take any of the following:

- Stellar Energetic Reactors+10 points per model.

Advanced Reaction (Solar Fury): This Advanced Reaction may be made once per battle during the opposing player's Shooting phase when any enemy unit declares a Shooting Attack targeting a friendly unit under the Reactive player's control composed entirely of models with the Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) special rule. Once the Active player has resolved all To Hit and To Wound rolls, and Armour Saves are made, but before any Damage Mitigation rolls are made or casualties removed, the Reactive player may make a Shooting Attack, targeting the unit that triggered this Reaction, with all weapons increasing their AP by 1 but gaining the Gets Hot special rule. To Hit rolls for weapons that already possess the Gets Hot special rule trigger that special rule on a roll of 1 or 2 during this Shooting Attack, instead of only on a 1. A unit that makes a Solar Fury as part of a Solar Fury Reaction may not make any attacks indirectly (without line of sight) including weapons with the Barrage special rule or other weapon or special rule that otherwise ignore line of sight, and Vehicles may only fire Defensive weapons. Template weapons used as part of a Solar Fury Reaction use the Wall of Death rule instead of firing normally.

Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) (Stellar Constructors): When a unit made up of entirely models with the Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) special rule rolls for scatter with a Blast Weapon they roll a D6 instead of 2D6.

Warlord Trait (Merciless Tyrant):

Embodyed by a merciless overlord whose heart is as relentless as the sun's fury, this warlord personifies the Mephrit Dynasty's doctrine of overwhelming firepower and absolute ruthlessness. The Merciless Tyrant harnesses the destructive potential of Necron weaponry to its fullest extent, pushing the limits of their arsenal to unleash a storm of energy blasts upon their foes. Under his command, even the disciplined Necron legions become instruments of searing annihilation, their attacks intensified to a perilous edge, ready to burn through any opposition with a scorching, unyielding wrath.

A Warlord with this Trait, and every model with the Infantry Unit Type in a unit it has joined with the Necron Dynasty (Mephriy) special rule may choose to roll an additional dice when making a Shooting Attack with any Rapid Fire, Assault or Heavy weapon that does not have the Blast or Template special rules, but these weapons gain the Gets Hot special rule for that Shooting Attack. If a Warlord and/or unit under the effect of this Trait makes the Solar Fury Reaction, then a single additional dice is added to the number of attacks made by each model after the effects of Solar Fury have been applied. In addition, whenever a Warlord with this Trait, and any unit it has joined, is the target of an enemy Shooting Attack it must make either the Return Fire or Solar Fury Reactions if possible – this Reaction does not cost a point of the Reactive player's Reaction Allotment, but does not allow that unit to make any further Reactions in that Phase and does not allow the Solar Fury Reaction to be made more than once per battle. However, a Warlord with this Trait and any unit it has joined may make no other Reaction in any Phase, excepting only the Interceptor Advanced Reaction.

Nephrekhs

Nephrekhs Necron units gain the Necron Dynasty (Nephrekhs) special rule, which grants the Beings of Light advanced reaction and Translocation Beamers special rule.

Advanced Reaction (Beings of Light): This Advanced Reaction may be made once per battle during the opposing player's Shooting phase when any enemy unit declares a Shooting Attack targeting a friendly unit with the Infantry Unit Type under the Reactive player's control with the Necron Dynasty (Nephrekhs) special rule. All models in the Reacting unit gain the Feel No Pain (5+) special rule against all Wounds inflicted as part of the Shooting Attack that triggered this Reaction. If the Reacting unit already has a version of the Feel No Pain (X) special rule, then this does not stack or increase that rule, and the Reacting player may choose to use any one of the Feel No Pain (X) special rules available to them. Once the Shooting Attack has been completely resolved, the Reactive player may make a Shooting Attack, targeting the unit that triggered this Reaction.

Necron Dynasty (Nephrekhs) (Translocation Beamers): A unit made up of entirely models with the Necron Dynasty (Nephrekhs) special rule has a 6+ Invulnerability Save and the Moves Through Cover special rule.

Nephrekhs:

Nihilakh

Dynasty Effect:

Nihilakh:

Novokh

Novokh Dynasty Necron units gain the Necron Dynasty (Novokh) special rule, which grants the Blood Engrams advanced reaction, Awakened By Murder special rule, and access to the Blood-Fueled Fury Warlord trait.

Any unit with the Necron Dynasty (Novokh) special rule may take any of the following:

Advanced Reaction (Blood Engrams): This Advanced Reaction may be made once per battle in the opposing player's turn, when any enemy unit with one or more models within 12" of a friendly unit made up entirely of models with the Necron Dynasty (Novokh) special rule is moved during the Movement phase. Once the enemy unit that triggered this Reaction has been moved, but before any other units are moved, a single friendly unit made up entirely of models with the Necron Dynasty (Novokh) special rule that can draw a line of sight to the enemy unit that moved may immediately move up to a number of inches equal to twice the highest Initiative Characteristic in the unit and then declare a Charge targeting the enemy unit that moved if it is within 12". A Charge declared as part of this Reaction is resolved immediately (the enemy unit may not declare any Reaction against this Charge), and if successful the combat will be fought as normal in the following Assault phase, with a Charging unit with the Necron Dynasty (Novokh) special rule gaining all the normal benefits of Charging.

Necron Dynasty (Novokh) (Awakened By Murder): In the Fight sub-phase, after casualties have been removed but before determining which side has won, if this unit has caused unsaved wounds to the enemy unit it enters Engrammatic Blood Rage until the end of the game. When in Engrammatic Blood Rage, this unit gains the Fearless, Furious Charge (1), and Rage (1) special rules.

Warlord Trait (Blood-Fueled Fury):

Emanating an aura of unquenchable rage and savage vigor, this warlord channels the ferocity of the Novokh Dynasty, thriving in the blood-soaked maelstrom of close combat. The Blood-Fueled Fury embodies a primal energy, drawing strength from the violence of battle. With each victorious strike, he absorbs the essence of the fight, becoming an even more formidable force on the battlefield. As he rends and tears through his enemies, his growing momentum turns him into an unstoppable engine of destruction, embodying the Novokh creed that power is drawn from the lifeblood of the foe.

A Warlord with this Trait gains an additional Wound at the end of any Assault phase in which he inflicts at least one unsaved Wound on an enemy model. This can not increase the Warlord's Wounds Characteristic above his starting value, but if this effect is triggered while the Warlord has his maximum possible number of Wounds then he instead gains +1 Attacks and Strength until the end of the controlling player's next turn. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this Trait may make an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase so long as the Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Sautekh

Dynasty Effect: Warlord has not been removed as a casualty.

Szarekhan

Szarekhan Dynasty Necron units gain the Necron Dynasty (Szarekhan) special rule, which grants the TODO advanced reaction and Uncanny Artifice special rule.

Any unit with the Necron Dynasty (Szarekhan) special rule may take any of the following:

- Master-Work special rule on one of their weapons +10 points.

Advanced Reaction (Undying Empire): This Advanced Reaction may be made once per battle in the opposing player's turn, when any enemy unit declares a Shooting Attack targeting a friendly unit under the Reactive player's control composed entirely of models with the Necron Dynasty (Szarekhan) special rule. Once the Active player has completed their attack and casualties are removed, during the resulting Reanimation Protocols rolls: after you have created a Reassembling Pool, double its size. After you have finished your Reanimation Protocols rolls, the reacting unit may immediately move a number of inches equal to twice the lowest initiative in the unit.

Necron Dynasty (Szarekhan) (Uncanny Artifice): Units with this special rule may give any of their weapons Master-Crafted for 10 pts/weapon. Additionally, units with this special rule gain the Stubborn special rule.

Szarekhan:

- Rad-Receptors +2 points.

Bloodswarm Scarabs

Friendly units with the Flayer sub-type can re-roll the scatter dice when arriving from Deep Strike Reserve.

Dispersion Shield

Grants a 3+ Invulnerable Save, but the wielder never receives +1 Attack for fighting with two Melee weapons. In addition, if this save is made against a shooting attack, the bearer may take a -1 penalty to the Invulnerable Save to attempt to reflect the weapon into a nearby enemy. If the save is successful, choose an unengaged enemy unit within 6": that unit then suffers a single hit equivalent to the attack that was saved. This option may not be used on Blast or Template weapons. For the purpose of cover and other effects, treat the reflected shots as having come from the bearer's unit.

Dynastic Ankh

A unit that includes at least one model with a Dynastic Ankh adds +1 to the Wounds score used to determine if they win a Combat in the Assault phase. In addition, a unit that includes at least one model with a Dynastic Ankh may, before any dice are rolled to determine Fall Back distance, choose to Fall Back only a distance equal to the roll of a D6 instead of 2D6 (or 3D6 if a Cavalry unit), and if forced to move off the edge of the battlefield will instead stop with each model 1" away from the edge of the battlefield.

Eternity Gate

For each Eternity gate, at the start of each friendly turn you may choose one mode of operation:

- Choose one friendly unengaged Necron unit without the Vehicle Unit-Type that is on the battlefield or in Teleportation Reserves. If the unit is in Teleportation Reserves it immediately arrives this turn (no dice roll is required) and is placed as if it were disembarking from the Monolith. If the chosen unit is currently on the battlefield it is first removed from the table and place into Teleportation Reserves, after which you may also place the unit as if it were disembarking from the Monolith.
- All enemy models without the Vehicle Unit-Type within D6" of the Monolith's portal and in line of sight to it must make a Strength Check. Failure causes the model to suffer an immediate Instant Death wound with no saves or Damage Mitigation rolls allowed.

Models with an Eternity Gate can be boarded following the normal rules for Transport, however place the unit into Teleportation Reserves instead.

Flensing Scarabs

During the first round of each close combat, this unit's weapons count as having the Shred special rule. Units with the Necron Dynasty (Maynarkh) special rule may also take this wargear.

Gloom Prism

This model gains the Anathema sub-type. Additionally, any psychic power targeting a unit within 3" of this model is nullified on a 4+.

Gravity Displacement Pack

At the start of the controlling player's Movement phase, a model with a Gravity Displacement Pack may set its Move Characteristic to a value of 12 for the duration of the controlling player's turn (sometimes referred to as 'activating' the jump pack). This allows a model with a Gravity Displacement Pack to move up to 12", regardless of the Movement Characteristic shown on its profile and gain any other benefits of a Movement Characteristic of 12 (including the bonus to Charge distance). In addition, all models with a Gravity Displacement Pack that have been activated ignore terrain while Moving and Charging, but must take Dangerous Terrain tests as normal when beginning or ending their Movement in Dangerous Terrain. A model with an activated Gravity Displacement Pack may move over both friendly and enemy models or units without penalty – but must end its Movement at least 1" away from any model from another unit.

A model with a Gravity Displacement Pack may still Run if it would normally be able to Run (this does not allow units that include any models with the Heavy Sub-type to Run). When making a Run move for a model with an activated Gravity Displacement Pack, add the Initiative Characteristic of that model to 12 to determine how far it may move – the model ignores terrain and models from other units while making a Run move with a Gravity Displacement Pack as previously noted, but may not make Shooting Attacks or declare a Charge in the same turn in which it has Run as per the normal rules for Running.

During a Reaction made in any Phase, a player may not choose to activate a model's Gravity Displacement Pack to gain any bonus to its Movement Characteristic.

Hyper-Oubliette Navigator

The Ethereal Interception Advanced Reaction can be performed by this unit for 0 Reaction Allotment. Additionally, the may opt to re-roll Deep-Strike scatter rolls.

Mindshackle Scarbs

At the start of the Fight sub-phase, select a model in base contact with the bearer. The target must take a Leadership Check on 3D6. If the Check is failed, the victim strikes at his allies instead of attacking normally. During the Fight sub-phase, the target makes his attacks against his own unit (automatically hitting if they are the only model in the unit), resolved as normal with any abilities and penalties from his weapons (the controller of the Mindshackle Scarbs chooses which, if there is a choice). If the target is still alive, the victim returns to normal once all blows in that round of combat have been struck. Dreadnoughts and Automata may re-roll failed Leadership tests for this effect.

Nyctotheric Optic Suite

The bearer gains the Night Vision special rule. In addition, in lieu of the model with the Nyctotheric Optic Suite making a Shooting Attack in the Shooting phase, all other models in the same unit gain a bonus of +1 to their BS for that Shooting phase. This benefit is not cumulative, and no unit can benefit from more than one bonus to their BS from Nyctotheric Optic Suite.

Phylactery

Increase the models It Will Not Die level to 3+.

Phase Shifter

Grants a 4+ Invulnerable Save.

Stellar Energetic Reactors

This wargear may only be taken by units with the Necron Dynasty (Mephrit) special rule. When making Shooting attacks, this unit's weapons count as having the Shred special rule.

Shadow Ankh

The bearer gains the Anathema sub-type.

Radioactive Energetics

Any melee Hits allocated to models locked in combat with one or more units that include a model with Radioactive Energetics require one lower result To Wound than they would normally, to a minimum of 2+. This effect is not cumulative with itself if more than one model in a combat has Radioactive Energetics. Models with Radioactive Energetics are immune to the effects of rad grenades, the Rad-phage special rule and the rad furnaces or Radioactive Energetics of models they are locked in combat with. In addition, Hits from weapons with the Rad-phage special rule that are allocated to a model with Radioactive Energetics only successfully wound on a To Wound roll of a 6+.

Rad-Receptors

This wargear may only be taken by units with the Necron Dynasty (Thokt) special rule. When making Shooting attacks, this unit's weapons count as having the Rad-Phage special rule.

Resurrection Orb

Once per battle, on your turn, the bearer can activate their Resurrection Orb. If it does, select one friendly unit with Reanimation Protocols within Nodal Range. The bearer of the Orb and the selected unit immediately reassembles a number of wounds equal to the total number of missing wounds and number of wounds from all destroyed models.

Semipteral Weave

Increase the model's save to 2+.

Sepulchral Scars

Increase this model's It Will Not Die level to 3+.

Tesseract Labyrinth

One use only.

The bearer can use the Tesseract Labyrinth in lieu of making a Shooting or Close Combat attack this round. Target a unit within 6": the target unit must immediately roll a Wounds Check for each model based on their current remaining wounds or be trapped within the Labyrinth.

This can also be used to carry a unit alongside the bearer. If you do so, select a unit to start the game inside the Tesseract Labyrinth. They can be disembarked as if they were in a Transport with no Special Abilities, following the relevant rules. If the bearer dies, the embarked unit is lost and considered destroyed for the purposes of objectives.

If paired with the Mindshackle Scarabs wargear, an embarked unit can also be chosen from an enemy faction. The unit is treated as a Distrusted Ally and must still take up a relevant Force Org Slot. In narrative games, units that are captured at the end of the game can be included as well. Leave it to your opponents as to whether it includes a Force Org Slot or points.

Translocation Shroud

The bearer and its attached unit gains the Fleet (2) special rule. When moving, the bearer and its attached unit can move over all other models and terrain as if they were open ground. However, they cannot end their move on top of other models and can only end their move on top of impassable terrain if it is possible to actually place the models on top of it.

Quantum Shielding

A vehicle equipped with active quantum shielding reduces the strength of attacks to its Front and Side Armour by -2. A vehicle's quantum shielding is active until it suffers a penetrating hit, at which point it immediately deactivates. For the remainder of the battle after a vehicle's quantum shielding deactivates, all subsequent hits against that vehicle (including hits made from subsequent shooting attacks in the same phase – either from a different weapon or a different unit – or hits made at a lower Initiative step in close combat) are treated as though the vehicle was not equipped with quantum shielding.

Quantum Shielding

A vehicle equipped with a Quantum Shielding Matrix and Quantum Shielding whose Quantum Shielding has been deactivated in a previous round may attempt to reactivate it. At the start of your turn, roll a D6: on a 5+ the vehicle Quantum Shielding reactivates and functions as normal.

Fail-Safe Overcharger _____ +10 pts

At the start of the Movement Phase, this model may give up its Shooting attacks for this turn to use this power. If you do so, make a Leadership Check. Failure causes an immediate wound to the selected unit that only Invulnerability and Damage Mitigation rolls can prevent. Success allows you to select a single friendly Necron unit with the Canoptek Sub-Type with Nodal Range and apply one of the following effects to that unit.

- The chosen unit gains +1 BS until the end of the next turn.
- The chosen unit gains +1 WS until the end of the next turn.
- The chosen unit gains +1 A until the end of the next turn.
- The chosen unit gains a 6+ Invulnerability Save until the end of the next turn.
- The chosen unit gains +3 M until the end of the next turn.

You may attempt to apply multiple options at once to the same unit or to multiple units within Nodal Range by taking a cumulative -1 penalty to your Leadership Check for each option after the first. Specialist Powers

Gaze of Death

In its Shooting phase this model can target one non-vehicle enemy unit within 12" to which it has line of sight. Roll a number of dice determined by the C'Tan's level: a Shard rolls 3D6 and a Transcendent rolls 4D6. The enemy unit suffers a number of wounds equal to the rolled total minus their Leadership. These are resolved at AP2 and with the Ignores Cover special rule. If at least one unsaved Wound is inflicted, the C'tan immediately regains one Wound lost earlier in the battle.

Lord of Fire (X)

All Flamer weapons (as well as Heat Rays, Burnas, Skorchas, Inferno Cannons and any other weapons which is described as using 'flame' or 'fire' as its effect or in its special rules) and weapons with the melta type fired within 12" of the C'Tan have a chance of exploding.

Roll a D6 each time such a weapon is fired within range. On a roll equal or greater to this power's level, the weapon detonates. If carried by a non-vehicle model, the model immediately suffers a single Wound with an AP value equal to that of the weapon that was used to attack (Armour Saves, Invulnerable Saves and Feel No Pain rolls can be taken, but not Cover Saves or Shrouded rolls) – this Wound cannot be allocated to any other model in the unit. A Vehicle instead rolls an additional D6. If this roll results in a 1 or 2, the Vehicle suffers a Glancing Hit.

Shard: Lord of Fire (6+)

Transcendent: Lord of Fire (5+)

Gaze of the Abyss

If this model would be targeted by a Shooting Attack or Charge, the attacking unit must immediately make a Morale Test. Additionally, the C'Tan has the Fear ability at a level dependent on its level.

Shard: Fear (2)

Transcendent: Fear (3)

Grand Illusion

After all forces have been deployed and all Scout moves have been made, roll a dice dependent on the C'Tan's level: a D3 for Shard and D6 for Transcendent. You can immediately redeploy this many units, subject to the normal deployment rules for the mission. This power can be used to move units into or out of reserve.

Voltaic Storm

After this model has completed its movement, target an enemy Vehicle, Dreadnought, or Automata unit within 18" with this power. Roll a D6 to determine the effect, dependent on the C'Tan's level.

D6	Result
1	No Effect
2-3	A Vehicle Unit Type that is part of the target unit suffers 1 Glancing Hit if Shard Level, or 2 if Transcendent level. Any other model suffers 1 or 2 Wounds respectively. Only Invulnerable Saves or Damage Mitigation rolls may be taken against these.
4-5	A Vehicle Unit Type that is part of the target unit suffers 1 Penetrating Hit if Shard Level, or 2 if Transcendent level. Any other model suffers 1 or 2 Wounds respectively. Only Invulnerable Saves or Damage Mitigation rolls may be taken against these. Re-roll results of Crew Stunned and Explodes.
6	A Vehicle Unit Type that is part of the target unit suffers 1 Penetrating Hit, or 2 if Transcendent level. Any other model suffers 1 or 2 Wounds respectively. Only Invulnerable Saves or Damage Mitigation rolls may be taken against these.

C'Tan Special Rules

Drain Life

Damage Mitigation rolls cannot be taken for wounds caused by this model.

Flaming Vessel

At the start of the Fight sub-phase, center a 5" Large Blast Template on this model. Each unit, except for the C'Tan, suffers a S6 AP 5 Armourbane (Melta) hit for each model underneath the template.

Matter Absorption

At the end of the turn, if an enemy Vehicle or Dreadnought was destroyed as a result of an attack made by this model, the Void Dragon immediately make a check against this model's It Will Not Die ability for each model destroyed. If successful, it regains a lost Wound and remove any wrecks for the respective vehicle from play.

Misdirection

Attacks made against this model suffer a -1 penalty to BS and WS. When targeted by a Shooting Attack, the range between an attacking unit and this unit is considered to be 6" further than the actual range between the two units. In addition, when attacked by a weapon with the Barrage special rule, this model is always treated as thought it was out of light of sight when scattering any attacks.

Unfathomable Horror

When an enemy unit is called to take a Morale test caused by this model, enemy models with the Fearless special rule are treated as instead having the Stubborn special rule, and enemy models with the Stubborn special rule are treated as not having that special rule.

Reactions

Ethereal Interception

If this unit is in Deep-Strike reserves, this reaction may be made after an enemy units arrives from Reserves and has finished all of their movement. The reacting unit immediately arrives from Reserves, following the rules for Deep Strike Assaults. Then, if it within Line of Sight of the triggering unit, it may make a Shooting attack against the triggering unit. This reaction may only be used once per turn for each unit with it.

Strategical Timeweaver

When an opponent declares a Shooting Attack or Fights this unit or a unit it is attached to, this reaction may be declared. The triggering unit must re-roll all successful To Hit and To Wound rolls against the reacting unit until the end of the attack, keeping the second result. This re-roll occurs even if the triggering unit's rules (e.g. Shred, Hatred, etc.) have already re-rolled these dice. This reaction may only be used once per game for each unit that is able to make use of this reaction.

TROOPS

The rank and file of the Necron armies are the Dynastic Warriors. Silent as the grave, Warriors move with slow, erratic, yet exacting movements. Despite this sluggishness, Warriors are capable of great accuracy at range and devastating blows up close. Like all Necrons, a Warrior's living metal necrodermis body is incredibly durable, capable of absorbing truly horrendous amounts of fire with hardly a scratch to show for it. When enough punishment is heaped on a Warrior to actually damage it, advanced self-repair protocols undo all but the most severe damage in moments. These seemingly indestructible machines carry Gauss Flayers which utilise theoretically impossible science to strip their target apart on a molecular level. These potent weapons can strip the adamantium from a battle tank's hull as surely as they strip the flesh from a man. Even Power Armour and the enhanced constitution of an Astartes provide limited defence. While the Necron nobility retained their personalities and intellects intact, their Warriors did not come through bio-transference so fortunate. Warriors possess but a dim spark of life, relying in battle on orders given through the Nodal Command network and programmed attack patterns rather than any self-direction or intellect.

TROOPS

As the shock troops of a Tomb World's armies, Immortals have a far wider range and depth of reaction than Warriors, for they have retained much of their tactical and strategic experience from eons ago. Indeed, in many ways, the biotransference to machine bodies and minds only sharpened the Immortals' ability to prosecute war in an efficient fashion. This is not to say that Immortals do not have shortcomings. Like all Dynastic Legions, they are still inescapably tied to the Nodal Command matrix and are reliant upon it for more advanced order. In life, Immortals were the professional soldiery of the Necrontryr empire. In death, they surpass the Warriors in nearly every way. Possessed of even more resilient frames, Necron Immortals prove almost impervious to small arms. Their training and experience in combat survived the process of biotransference undiminished, and Immortals seem to have retained a brighter spark of intellect than their less favoured brethren, although only in regard to the practice of war. Outside of combat, Immortals display about as much personality as a monotask

Servitor. Immortals are typically armed with Gauss Blasters, weapons even deadlier than the Gauss

Flayers used by Warriors.

Engram Specialization: When taking a Canoptek Plasmacyte model, you must select a specialization: Destructor, Accelerator, or Reanimator. This determines the effects of the model's Metasentient Energization special rule.

Metasentient Energization (Destructor): Once per turn at the start of the Assault Phase, all other models with the Destroyer sub-type in the Plasmacyte's attached unit gains +1 S and +1 A until the end of the turn. If you do so, roll a D6: on a 5+, the unit suffers an immediate Wound, which only Invulnerable Saves and Damage Mitigation rolls can prevent.

Metasentient Energization (Accelerator): Once per turn, after the Plasmacyte or its attached unit fails a Leadership test, you may have the unit re-roll the check. If you do so, roll a D6: on a 5+, the unit suffers an immediate Wound, which only Invulnerable Saves and Damage Mitigation rolls can prevent.

Metasentient Energization (Reanimator): Once per turn, when the Plasmacyte or its attached unit's Reanimation Protocols is triggered, you may add a +1 to all the reanimate rolls. If you do so, roll a D6: on a 4+, the unit suffers an immediate Wound, which only Invulnerable Saves and Damage Mitigation rolls can prevent. Each unit can only ever be affected by one Plasmacyte Reanimator each turn.

Enslaved Star God: If this model would be removed (after Reanimation Protocols roll have been failed), roll a D6. On a 1, the shackles of the C'Tan Shard have been broken and it is now rampaging. The opposing player returns the model to a point within 3" of where it dies with 1 Wound remaining. While rampaging, the C'Tan Shard is considered an enemy unit to all players and takes its turns at the beginning of its owner's turns use the standard rules. It will attempt to attack the closest and highest number of units possible each turn, preferring its owner's units in case of a tie. If it would be removed while rampaging, this ability does not trigger again.

Immune to Natural Laws: When moving, this model can move over all other models and terrain freely, and automatically passes Dangerous Terrain tests. However, it cannot end its move on top of other models and can only end its move on top of impassable terrain if it is possible to actually place the model on top of it.

See, Obyron, the separatists come – attempting to outflank me just as they did at the Fourth Battle of Vyndakh. How they calculate that daubing themselves green and roaring like savages will produce a different outcome, I cannot fathom; but it is of no account. Ready my legions – another glorious victory shall soon be ours.

Nodal Relay: If a Canoptek Spyder is within Nodal Range of a model it will extend that range an additional 6" from the Spyder model, acting as a relay point.

Scarab Hive: Once per friendly Movement phase, each Canoptek Spyder model can use this special rule to create Canoptek Scarab Swarms. To do so, nominate a friendly unit of Canoptek Scarab Swarms that is within 6" of the Canoptek Spyder. Add a single Canoptek Scarab Swarm base to the unit – this can take the unit beyond its starting size, but must be placed within 6" of the Canoptek Spyder. Lords of War

The silver prince nodded, and continued. 'So, here is the lesson.' He extended his arm towards the far dust cloud, as if he were about to implore the oncoming Titans, still ten leagues or more away, with rhetoric. And he said one word: 'Patience.' There was the tiniest, most insignificant little click. And in the same instant, the largest of the three walkers detonated, its central reactors struck dead-on by a sliver of metal moving faster than light itself.

Lords of War

At the heart of many Necron tomb complexes, sleeping Seraptek Heavy Constructs await the footfall of intruders. These brutal war engines were designed by ancient Cryptek conclaves to protect each world's master program, and this they do with merciless efficiency. Generators thrumming, the huge constructs advance with frightening speed, their optic lenses glowing as they pick out their targets. Massive cannons swivel in gimbal housings, crackling with destructive energies before unleashing pinpoint salvos to annihilate the interlopers. Should foes stray too close, the tomb guardians lash out with impaling forelimbs, their energy-sheathed tips rending metal, flesh and bone alike at a molecular level. As the legions of the Necron dynasties march out into the stars in ever-greater numbers, many Necron Overlords have summoned their Seraptek constructs to join their ranks, replacing their timeless vigils with front-line battlefield duties. In this capacity, Seraptek Heavy Constructs have proven mighty engines of conquest, more than capable of meeting an Imperial Knight or Ork Stompa head-on and emerging victorious.

The opposing player returns the model to a point within 3" of where it dies with 1 Wound remaining. While rampaging, the C'Tan Shard is considered an enemy unit to all players and takes its turns at the beginning of its owner's turns use the standard rules. It will attempt to attack the closest and highest number of units possible each turn, preferring its owner's units in case of a tie. If it would be removed while rampaging, this ability does not trigger again.

Immune to Natural Laws: When moving, this model can move over all other models and terrain freely, and automatically passes Dangerous Terrain tests. However, it cannot end its move on top of other models and can only end its move on top of impassable terrain if it is possible to actually place the model on top of it.

Level of Alliance

Dynastic Allies

The closest of allies who have fought beside each other many times. The two forces are considered 'friendly units' in all regards. This means, for example, that Dynastic Allies may be joined by allied Independent Characters, are treated as friendly units for the targeting of special abilities, Warlord Traits and so on.

Note: Not even Dynastic Allies can embark in allied Transport Vehicles, and rules that affect a particular force owing to its Dynasty special rule do not carry over to Dynastic Allies allied units.

Fellow Warriors

The two forces are willing to fight together for common cause against their foes. Units in your army treat other units at the Fellow Warriors level of Alliance as not being part of the army with the exception that they may not be deliberately targeted, attacked, targeted with special abilities, etc, (note that Blasts and the like may still scatter over allied forces and adversely affect them).

Fellow Warriors cannot benefit from the effects of allied Warlord Traits or be joined by allied Independent Characters, and are not counted as friendly units for the purposes of special abilities. In essence, the two forces fight alongside each other without any additional positive or negative effect.

Distrusted Allies

The two forces can make common cause against an enemy, but never fully trust each other due to a long-standing feud or inherent antipathy. Models in the allied detachment are treated exactly like Fellow Warriors except that units in this allied detachment are never counted as Scoring units and may not hold Objectives.

By the Phaeron's

The two forces will only ever fight beside each other in the direst of circumstances or by the direct command of their royal lord. The two forces are dealt with as Distrusted Allies but, in addition, whenever a unit is within 6" of a unit that is part of a Faction that falls under this level of alliance then both units reduce their Leadership by -1 until they are no longer within 6" of any unit from that Faction that is part of the same army.
